Reissue Applications

1. The amendment filed 8/28/02 has been entered.

Recapture Rejections

2. Claims 16-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 251 as being an improper recapture of broadened claimed subject matter surrendered in the application for the patent upon which the present reissue is based. See Pannu v. Storz, 258 F.3d 1366 (Fed. Cir. 2001), See Hester Industries, Inc. v. Stein, Inc., 142 F.3d 1472, 46 USPQ2d 1641 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Clement, 131 F.3d 1464, 45 USPQ2d 1161 (Fed. Cir. 1997); Ball Corp. v. United States, 729 F.2d 1429, 1436, 221 USPQ 289, 295 (Fed. Cir. 1984). A broadening aspect is present in the reissue, which was not present in the application for patent. The record of the application for the patent shows that the broadening aspect (in the reissue) relates to subject matter that applicant previously surrendered during the prosecution of the application. Accordingly, the narrow scope of the claims in the patent was not an error within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 251, and the broader scope surrendered in the application for the patent cannot be recaptured by the filing of the present reissue application.

In claims 16-51, Applicant has omitted the language “skipping a remaining data address in said different recording locations of said data track, when any one data address mark recorded in said different recording locations is normally detected” and “said transducer head not utilizing a remaining data address mark recorded in said different recording locations of said data track, when a data address mark recorded in a different data address regions is detected”. This language specifically added to claims in the original patent to place it in condition for allowance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 43 and 51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gold (5,231,545).

Regarding claim 43, Gold teaches a disk drive device comprising a magnetic recording medium having at least one data block (data block 1) that includes at least a first data address mark (AM) and a second data address mark (AM) separately marking the data block with servo information area (28) between first and second data address mark and a controller (AM decoder/data sequencer) configured to read within the at least one of the first and second data address marks. See fig. 1A, 4A, and 5.

Regarding claim 51, Gold teaches a disk drive device comprising a head (166a) positioned to read, within at least one data block of a recording medium (162), a first data address mark (AM) and a second address mark (AM) separately marking the data block and a controller (AM decoder/sequencer) regulating movement of the head based on at least on of the first and second data address marks. See figs. 1A, 4A, and 5.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-15 are allowed.

Art Unit: 2651

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-51 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
